Attorney ... eral Wickersham Argue... Dissolution of Oil ...

TELLS OF FEARLESS CONTROL

Referred to Re-Organization of 1899. Third Day of Oral Argument.—Watson for the Oil Trust. The Details.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Declaring that the re-organization of the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, in 1899 riveted together the control of the subsidiary companies in a way that had not existed before, Attorney General Wickersham today argued before the Supreme Court of the United States that the defense put up by the Standard Oil Company against dissolution fell to the ground.

It was the third day of the oral argument of the case. Frank B. Kellogg had concluded his long argument in favor of the dissolution as decreed by the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Missouri. D. T. Watson, of Pittsburg, had centered an attack on the form and effect of the decree. Mr. Wickersham was then called upon to close the argument for the government. He did not conclude, but will complete his argument tomorrow, when John G. Johnson will finish the presentation of the entire case.

The address of Mr. Watson paved the way for Mr. Wickersham's remarks.

Mr. Watson made the decree of the lower court the topic for his remarks. He said that the Circuit Court held that the defendants had done nothing after the passage of the Sherman anti-trust law to violate it, but to convey the properties held together for years by a lawful body of men to the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey.

"Are the Federal courts to sit by the avenues of interstate commerce?" inquired Mr. Watson, "to pass on the conveyance of properties?"

He declared that the Standard Oil did not gain a single power by reason of the conveyance.

"We did not put any alien property in the new organization," he said. "Only joint property was changed from the trustees to a corporation. Pray tell me how the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey could restrain trade by such a conveyance?"

He contended that the properties conveyed were non-competitive before 1899 and remained exactly as they had been after that year.

The reason he advanced for the Circuit Court holding that the conveyance was illegal, was that it believed it had to follow the decision of the Supreme Court in the Northern Securities case.

"But the Standard Oil case," he argued, "differed from the Northern Securities suit. In the latter, railroads owing a duty to compete, and engaged in active and actual competition, were concerned. In the former case, there were concerned trade companies, owing no duty to compete and not in competition with one another because of their common ownership.

A second point that Mr. Watson argued was that the decree practically confiscated property because it did not allow the subsidiary companies to pay dividends to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and that the stock of the company became practically worthless.

"It is gratifying to believe," said Mr. Wickersham, following Mr. Watson, "that the defendants will, at least, find some difficulty in evading the decree of the lower court if it is affirmed."

He took up the defense of the decree telling the court had held that a conspiracy to restrain trade had been found and that the conveyance of 1899 was made in pursuance of that conspiracy.

After reviewing the history of the Standard Oil Company to support his claim that its organization just preceding the re-organization of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, in 1899 was illegal, Mr. Wickersham answered Mr. Watson's question about the effect of the step in 1899.

"The effect was to rivet the control of one hand over the 20 companies, a control that neither death, taxes nor financial ruin could rend. Before the separation of the stock of one of the certifi ate holders would have disintegrated the control. By this re-organization a perpetual immortal element was accorded to the control."

DEMOCRATS CELEBRATE TODAY

Party Leaders Gather at Baltimore for Banner Event of Decade—Will Not Boost Candidates.—Announce Speakers.

Baltimore, Jan. 16.—Content during the lean years of defeat to dine at "Dollar Dinners" with "hog and hominy" as the central theme and spring water on the side, the militant Democracy of 1911 will sit at a feast in this city tomorrow night where the exclusive diamond back terrapin will vie with the aristocratic canvas-back duck and the epicurean Smithfield ham in the courses of a banquet that it fittingly to celebrate the Democratic victories of 1910.

The banquet will be the closing feature of a day given over to harmony conferences among the Democrats from various sections of the country.

Governor Harmon, of Ohio, and Champ Clark, of Missouri, are to be the central figures in the day's doings. Both will deliver formal addresses at a meeting in the Lyric tomorrow afternoon. Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas; Governor Eugene N. Foss, of Massachusetts; former Representative Theodore M. Bell, of California; former Senator Blackburn, of Kentucky; Senator Robert L. Taylor, of Tennessee; Senator Shively, of Indiana; Representative-elect Martin W. Littleton, of New York; National Chairman Norman E. Mack, and "Deacon" James C. Hemphill, of Richmond, Va., are among others scheduled to take part in the conference and to deliver speeches either at the meeting during the afternoon or at the banquet in the evening.

A special train from Washington will bring to Baltimore tomorrow evening practically every Democratic member of the United States Senate and House of Representatives. Altogether, it is expected that more than 1,000 faithful Democrats will sit about the "groaning boards" in the Fifth Regiment Armory tomorrow night.

Contrary to the general impression the meetings tomorrow will constitute a celebration rather than a conference and no great political significance is expected to attach to the proceedings. The men who proposed the celebration and who have charge of the plans, declare there is no purpose of starting a "boom for any man for President." They say that so far as Governor Harmon is concerned, his "boom" is already under way and has been for some time past.

Governor Crothers is to preside at the afternoon meeting and Judge Ferdinand Williams, of Cumberland, Md., will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

This banquet is to be about the most elaborate affair ever held in Baltimore. In wealth of floral decorations, in repleteness of service and in the choice of viands and vintage wines, it will take rank with the most notable feasts the Democracy has ever known. The Democratic leaders resent the idea that the Baltimore conference is intended to bring about harmony in the Democratic ranks. They declare it is simply to celebrate a harmony already attained.

No attempt will be made to fix a policy as to the course of the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives. That will be left to Congressional leaders to be dealt with in their own way. No resolution binding the Democracy to any candidate for any National office will be considered "in order" and there will be no appeals from the chair on this parliamentary point. A free, open discussion of Democratic principles has been invited and any speaker who cares to hurl a brick at "Cannonism" or any other "ism" of the Republican party will be more than welcome to have his fling.

Some idea of the magnitude of the banquet may be gained from the fact that there will be 53 seats at the speakers' table. This doesn't mean that there will be 53 speeches. But the more important guests will be given places of honor at this table whether they are to say anything or not. The banquet is to begin at 7 o'clock and is expected to end somewhere around midnight.

Before the toastmaster raps for order, however, the diners are expected to make away with 7,000 Lynhaven oysters, 75 gallons of diamond back terrapin, 1,650 pounds of Jersey capon, 550 canvasback ducks, 45 Smithfield hams, 1,000 cocktails, 550 quarts of champagne, 400 quarts of sauterne and $325 worth of fancy ices, to say nothing of the "fixings" that go between the various main courses. The smoke from 3,000 Perfecto cigars will make the air blue during the response to the various toasts.

SPEEDY JUSTICE FOR NEGRO FIEND

Nathan Montague, Whose Crime Startled North Carolina, to Die Feb. 15th.

TRIAL AT OXFORD YESTERDAY

Granville Murderer and Rapist Fried, Condemned and Sentenced Within the Day—Military Guard to and From Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Oxford, N. C., January 16.—Nathan Montague went to speedy condemnation today when he was arraigned, tried and convicted of killing Miss Mattie Sanders, December 19th. He will be electrocuted February 15th. Lawyers declare that it is unprecedented speed for so aggravated an offense.

When Montague came here this morning under a gatling gun and seventy soldiers of Company D, of Raleigu, and was met by 40 of Granville's Greys, under General Beverly Royster, he was accorded attention that belonged to heroes.

These were here to save his wretched life. The utmost order prevailed throughout. Though a crowd three times too great to enter the court room was here, it wasn't a murderous body. They were onlookers. They wanted to hear the testimony, which, of itself was tamed to prevent any possibility of an outbreak. There was no charge of the murder of Leyton Sanders and his little grand daughter, Irene Overton. The poor, outraged girl alone was avenged. The care exercised by the court took out all possibility of trouble. There was nothing to do.

More than a hundred troops with rifles, bayonets and gatlings could have stood back a Japanese invasion.

Montague was brought here on a special train from Raleigh, and at every turn the gathering crowds were disconcerted.

There is general satisfaction here. Nobody asked for the blood of the brute. Judge Ward congratulated the county upon its spirit of repression, and Granville looms up big tonight.

Montague was sent back on the special train this afternoon at 5 o'clock. His case went to the jury, was decided, the death sentence read, the crowd cleared and the train despatched within an hour—and the haste wasn't unseemly.

The sum total of the testimony developed, all elements of criminal assault being assiduously avoided in the extravagance of care, was circumstantial but conclusive. The first witness, Mrs. H. H. Overton, sister of Miss Mattie Sanders, gave the dead girl's age as 22, described her hair and clothes as being those found in the possession of Montague at his home the night of the murder. Her father-in-law, Shuman Overton, introduced to show similar testimony, declared that Montague could not have gotten bloody from the work that he did with the hogs, because he did so little. A waite cravat was found near Montague's house. It belonged to Leyton Sanders. Moses Overton, the third witness, probably unearthed the circumstances that enveloped the murder in mystery until he appeared. Montague had loaned Overton his knife that day.

When found in the light made by the burning house, it was recognized. That led to the arrest, and the arrest to the discovery of the clothes that completed the string of circumstances.

Melville Hunt, Joan T. Milton and Frank Hester were examined to show the burning of the house, the finding of charred bodies, the discovery of stray hairs, and the evidences of a struggle. That Montague tried to throw the girl into the well seems irresistible. The chain was bloody and all about it were seen patches of hair, blood and tracks that told of the struggle. Until Montague confesses completely, there will be no way to find out how old man Sanders died. Frank Hester gives a ray of light in his testimony. He discovered a pan of nearly consumed corn, the theory being that the old gentleman had shelled it and was actually engaged in that work when he was slain.

The belief is general that the child was burned without being murdered. The oldest and youngest were found near each other.

Ex-Sheriff S. A. Fleming's evidence tended to prove the identity of the three dead people. He was present when Montague was arrested; said the prisoner laughed an idiotic laugh, when accused. R. E. Starnes completed the circumstantial testimony by bringing out the fateful skirt, which no reasoning man can account for.

Robbing the dead girl of her clothing, throwing her into the house and carrying away the only actual evidence furnished against him, rather than burn it, was the course of Montague. Other minor things were mentioned. Sheriff Wheeler strengthened the case by producing a little purse with seventy-five cents in it, and later finding many clothes that Montague's wife and father-in-law, George Mangum, said were brought from Montague's house. These keys and clothes, purse and trinkets, belonged to the Sanders family, Mrs. Sanders testified. It added deliberate robbery to a long list of unthinkable crimes.

After Mrs. Sanders testified the State rested and the defense announced its unwillingness to offer evidence.

DETECTIVE NURSE ON STAND

Five Hours of Bitter Cross-Examination Failed to Shake Story About Mrs. Schenk—Another Interesting Day.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 16.—Five hours of the most bitter cross examination to which any witness has been subjected by the defense in the case of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk, charged with administering poison to her millionaire husband, John O. Schenk, failed to shake today the story told the jury on direct examination Saturday by Eleanor Zoelker, who is also known as Mrs. Klein, the detective nurse, who alleges that Mrs. Schenk offered her $1,000 to put a poisoned pill in the medicine, which was taken by the patient at the North Wheeling Hospital.

Miss Zoelker, who is connected with a Pittsburg detective agency, was on the stand all day.

The woman's veracity, her character and her past life were probed in the questions propounded by L. O. Boyce. So fierce was the attack on the witness that Prosecuting Attorney Handlan objected declaring that Mr. Boyce had no right to go beyond the bounds of authority and the jury was excluded while the objection was argued out. Mr. Boyce replied with equal bitterness.

He said: "This is a commercial witness and I will treat her commercially. She was employed to squirm and ingratiate herself into the confidence of this defendant with a tissue of lies, she has agreed to lie for money, and I will cross examine her on those lines. The detective profession is an honorable one, if conducted along regular lines, but in this case it was not. This woman is not a detective. She is only an operative, and I will conduct this questioning along lines to show that in such capacity she lied and entered into a conspiracy against this accused.

Time after time he asked, "When you told Mrs. Schenk that, you lied again didn't you?"

Without faltering or changing her expression the witness answered on every occasion with a straightforward "yes," or "sure, I did."

Asked if she had had conversations with Mrs. Schenk regarding the probable death of her husband, she said she had. That Mrs. Schenk had often expressed a fear that she would not "get what was coming to her" and that she was not sure she would get a good home if the husband should die.

"I watched every board, every stone going into our house," Mrs. Schenk told her, witness testified," and I know it is worth a lot of money."

"Following our talk when she offered me a thousand dollars to poison John, Mrs. Schenk evaded me for several days. On the morning of her arrest she came to the hospital and asked me if she could see her husband. I told her yes, to go in. Miss Evans ordered her out, as she was just giving Schenk a treatment.

"'You can give him the devil for all I care,' said Mrs. Schenk."

Both the regular nurse and herself had instructions not to leave wife and husband alone for a moment, an attempt on his life being feared.

Mr. Boyce took the witness in charge and his first question revealed the line which defense would follow.

"You were told to break into Mrs. Schenk's confidence by any means, weren't you?"

"Those were my instructions," she replied.

Mr. Boyce after two hours of searching inquiry, "Isn't it a fact that every statement you have made relative to Mrs. Schenk offering you $1,000 to poison her husband is a tissue of lies, manufactured out of the whole cloth by yourself?"

"Everything I have told is true."

"Isn't it a fact that only mention of $1,000 was made when you told Mrs. Schenk that Albert Schenk, John's brother, had offered Miss Evans that amount to take John's keys to his safe deposit box and turn them over to Albert, and you said that it ought to be worth that amount to you if you got them for Mrs. Schenk?"

"That is not true. No such conversation took place."

CANNON REBUKED BY HOUSE AGAIN

Democrats and Insurgents Joined in Defeat of the Speaker

STIRRING SCENES RE-ENACTED

Fight Developed As Result of Second Attempt to Use New Ruling—Test of Strength on Floor Of House.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The stirring scenes of the last session of Congress, when the House overthrew Speaker Cannon, and took the making of its rules into its own hands, was re-enacted in part on the floor of the House today.

Threatened with what they believe to be an effort to "draw the teeth" of one of the most important of the new rules, Democrats and insurgents joined in the defeat of the Speaker. By a vote of 145 to 126, the combined forces rallied to the support of Representative Fitzgerald (Democrat), of New York, and sustained him in his appeal from the Speaker's ruling.

The fight developed as the result of the second attempt to use the new rule which gives the House the power to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill that has been referred to it. The insurgents and Democrats believed that this rule was ironclad; that as soon as the consideration of the bills by unanimous consent had been concluded, on every first and third Monday of the month, the House was bound by the new rule to take up the motions to discharge committees from the custodies of specific bills.

When the moment arrived today, however, Speaker Cannon gave recognition to Representative Hull, of Iowa, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee. Mr. Hull moved that the house resolve itself into a committee of the whole and take up the consideration of the military appropriation, upon which it had been working last week. There was and immediate rallying of forces and stiffening of ranks amongst the insurgents and Democrats. Mr. Fitzgerald insisted upon the consideration of a motion to discharge a committee, which was upon the calendar. Speaker Cannon declined to give Mr. Fitzgerald the preferential, but said he would be glad to consider a point of order, if Mr. Fitzgerald wanted to make one.

The Democratic member declared that he did not have to make a point of order; that his was the right to recognition under the new rule, without the raising of any point of order against the Speaker's action.

"You'll overrule me if I make a point of order," said Mr. Fitzgerald.

Insurgents, Democrats and regulars jumped into the free debate that followed. Upon the Speaker's refusal to recognize Mr. Fitzgerald, the latter was finally forced to make a point of order against the taking up of the army appropriation bill.

The speaker in his ruling on the point held that the new rule did not make it mandatory upon the House to take up the motions to discharge committees; that it simply made such motions in order, if the House desired to take them.

Upon this basis, the Speaker held that Mr. Hull and the army appropriation bill had the right of way, and the motions provided for under the new rule could not be interposed.

"I appeal from the decision of the chair," cried Mr. Fitzgerald.

"I move to lay that motion on the table," interposed Representative Payne, of New York, Republican leader of the House.

Mr. Payne's motion was the first test of strength, and it was defeated by a vote of 155 to 124. Then followed an acrimonious debate upon the ruling.

When the vote finally was taken upon the appeal from Speaker Cannon's decision 23 insurgents and all but one of the Democrats present voted against the Speaker. The result was the defeat of his ruling by a vote of 145 to 126. Fourteen members answered present, but did not vote because of pairs with absent members.

Representative Saunders, of Virginia, was the only Democrat to vote against Mr. Fitzgerald in the appeal from the chair's decision.

The result of the vote is to settle definitely the status of the new rule.

The rule that brought about the test of strength and the defeat of the regular forces today is the last change that was made in the code of rules of the House last session. It was prepared by Champ Clark, the minority leader, and passed last June with but one dissenting vote.

Its purpose was to give a means for getting bills away from committees, when they attempted to "smother them."

Lynchburg, Va., Jan. 16.—The trustees of the Virginia Christian College met here this afternoon to receive the resignation of Dr. J. Hopwood, who has been president since the college was founded. Dr. Hopwood expects to found another Christian college at some point in the State of Georgia.

SHEEHAN CHOSEN AT ALBANY

Nominated as Democratic Candidate For Senate Last Night—Bolting Legislators May Change Vote Today.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 16.—William F. Sheehan was nominated as the Democratic candidate for United States Senator tonight at the joint caucus of Democratic legislators receiving 62 votes, four more than a majority of all the Democratic members of both Houses. The fact, however, that 25 members refused to attend the caucus leaves a strong possibility that tomorrow when the Legislature votes in regular session he may fail to receive the number of votes necessary for election.

Besides Mr. Sheehan's the names of Edward M. Shepard, of Brookly, and D. Cady Herrick, of Albany, and New York, were the only one presented to the caucus. Mr. Shepard received 22 votes and Judge Herrick 7.

The 25 legislators who bolted the caucus will be in a position to declare themselves unbound by its action and even if all those who entered the caucus vote for Mr. Sheehan tomorrow, the absentees can prevent his election because a majority of all the members of both Houses present and voting is necessary for election.

An effort to make the nomination of Mr. Sheehan unanimous failed because two assemblymen objected.

Two houses are obliged to take at least one ballot at noon tomorrow. If neither Mr. Sheehan nor any one else receives a majority at that time the Legislature will continue to ballot in ihs manner until a choice is made.

Republicans Name Depew.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Chauncey M. Depew was selected by the Republican caucus tonight as minority candidate for United States Senator to succeed himself. Senator Depew received 57 of the 68 votes cast and his selection was made unanimous. Among others who received votes were Theodore Roosevelt 2; Andrew D. White 2; ex-Mayor Seth Low of New York.

This means that Senator Depew will receive all the Republican votes at the regular sessions of both Houses tomorrow. In presenting the name of Colonel Roosevelt, Senator Wainwright expressed his disapproval of the nomination of Senator Depew and said that the minority should make an ideal nomination; one that would express the greatest contrast possible to that made by the Democrats. Assemblyman Goodwin defended Senator Depew.

ASKED ADMIRAL TO RESIGN.

Secretary of Navy Investigatings Affairs on Pacific Coast.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer this afternoon telegraphed to the Pacific coast for ful report on the allegation that the retirement of Admiral Barry was caused by the demands for his resignation by officers of the flagship West Virginia. The Navy Department declined to say to whom the telegram for a report had been sent, but it assumed that it was directed to Rear Admiral Thomas, the new commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet.

Not until the complaining officers of the West Virginia have been heard from will the Navy Department be in a position to determine whether there shall be any proceedings in the case of Admiral Barry if it should be decided in the affirmation, the mere fact that the accused officer has voluntarily retired would not shield him from punishment in the case of a court martial resulting in conviction. Under the regulations which specifically define the punishment for each offense, a person convicted in such a case, if an officer, would be liable to the severe penalty or confinement not to exceed 15 years and expulsion from the service, cutting off all retired pay.

There is no record of the trial of a naval officer under these conditions, though many blue jackets have suffered conviction.

Admiral Barry's request for retirement was received by the Navy Department by telegraph last Thursday. The fact that it was received by wire instead of by mail, was by no means unprecedented and excited no suspicion on the part of officials as to the probable causes for the request. Secretary Meyer approved the application on the day following its receipt. The President promptly approved the request and the Department telegraphed the fact to the admiral on Saturday detaching him at the same time from the Pacific fleet and ordering him to his home in accordance with the established custom. His retirement dates from January 13th.

By operation of law, Admiral Barry would have retired in October of the current year. His pay as a rear admiral was $8,000, while his retired compensation will be three-fourths of that amount or $6,000.

Hoke County Hearing.

The hearing of the proposition to create Hoke county out of parts of Robeson and Cumberland, with Raeford as the county seat, is to be heard Tuesday, January 24th by the joint legislative committee on counties, cities and towns. A number of prominent citizens of Lumberton, here on some other matters, say that there is really no probability of the proposition getting a favorable report, much less going through the Assembly. Every member of the Legislature from that section, they say, except Senator McLauchlin, who lives in the proposed new county, is fighting the proposition to divide the county. Sentiment among the members of the Legislature, it is said, is not much inclined toward the creation of any new counties at this session.

THE TENNESSEE STRUGGLE.

Withdrawal of Fitzhugh Brings About Big Change.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 16.—The struggle for the seat of James B. Frazier in the United States Senate assumed new aspect when the announcement of the withdrawal of G. T. Fitzhugh, of Shelby county, became known. Fitzhugh has been the favorite candidate of those independent Democrats who have most ardently supported State-wide prohibition anl election laws.

There are abundant signs that all of the Fitzhugh votes and some of the Republicans will not accept Frazier. In fact, it was said tonight that the Republicans will again vote tomorrow for Newell Sanders, Republican State chairman or Hal H. Hayes, Republican chancellor.

The regulars outside of the five for Frazier will present a solid line for McMillin tomorrow.

It was sure up to the time Fitzhugh's withdrawal announcement was made this afternoon that General Luke E. Wright, ex-Secretary of War, would enter the race tomorrow, but when that came, there was expressed a determination by the Wright managers to give McMillin a further opportunity.

As summed up the situation tonight is this: Wright will not enter the contest tomorrow. The Republican vote will be again cast for a Republican. The Independent vote will be cast, part for Frazier and part for Luke Lea, the acknowledged fusion leader, who has not yet given his consent to his friends to use his name.

The regulars will make a supreme effort to elect McMillin.

AEROPLANE FOR SCOUTING.

Tested by Army Officers at San Francisco Yesterday.

San Francisco, Jan. 16—The value of the aeroplane for scouting purposes was tested by army officers today in connection with San Francisco's aviation meet. Troops sent out from the presidio, over 12 miles north of Selridge Field, covered the distance to the aviation grounds, but despite the efforts of the bird men to find them their position was not discovered.

In the reconnoitre experiment, Walter Brookins, of the Wright team, carried up Lieutenant George E. H. Kelly, of the 30th infantry, who at an aviation of about 1,500 feet took a half dozen photographs and made a survey of the country.

The bi-plane did not venture far enough from the ground however, for the officers to discover the Presidio force. Later Aviator Eugene Ely, of the Curtiss camp made a reconnsance, but though he flew almost as far as the Presidio itself, he failed to catch sight of the soldiers.

General Tasker H. Bliss, who acted as umpire for the experiment, expressed himself as highly pleased with it for scouting purposes.

COMPROMISE WITH IMPORTERS.

The Treasury Department has demanded $10,000 for back duties from May and Ellis, one of the New Orleans firms and payment has been refused.

With his wife, whom he married in Sedan, Kans., last Summer, he came to Richmond from Baltimore about three weeks ago, and intended to locate here for the practice of his profession.

Sunday, after a protracted spree, he threatened to kill his wife and she went to another boarding house. He then locked himself in his room.

Uric Acid Gravel Successfully Passed Off by the simple, But Efficient Treatment With

BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS WATER

The following interesting story of a practical case treated this year evidences again the wonderful curative properties of this famous water:

"While visiting Buffalo Lithia Springs, Va., during the summer of 1910, we saw in consultation with Dr. Benj. K. Hays, the resident physician, Mr. David Elias of Raleigh, who was suffering acutely with a stone in the bladder. We were told by Dr. Hays that this stone had on July 12th, partly entered the urethra and had obstructed the urine, and that he had forced it back into the bladder with a sound.

"By the continuous use of Buffalo Lithia Springs Water, the stone having become sufficiently reduced in size, was passed on August 4th without pain or blood. We both examined the stone and found it to be uric acid in composition, weighing five grains, and honey-combed in appearance. It was evidently in a state of disintegration, and there is every reason to believe that the stone had been many times the size it was when passed.

"T. L. BOOTH, M. D., Oxford, N. C.
"J. ALLISON HODGES, M. D., Professor of Nervous Diseases of the University College of Medicine, Richmond, Va."

"BUFFALO LITHIA SPRINGS CO.

"Gents:—It affords me great pleasure in certifying that the above statement is true and correct. (Signed) "DAVID ELIAS, Raleigh, N. C."

"Mr. David Elias of Raleigh, came to Buffalo Lithia Springs early in July, 1910, and placed himself under my care. He was suffering acutely from the effect of a stone in the bladder. A few days later the stone partially entered the urethra and being too large to pass, cut off the flow of urine. By passing a sound I pushed the stone back into the bladder. On August 3d, after three weeks of continuous use of Buffalo Lithia Springs Water, the stone was passed without pain or blood. It weighed five grains, and showed unmistakable evidence of disintegration. "BENJ. K. HAYS, Oxford, N. C."

WHAT IS DOING IN COLUMBUS

Alleged Bigamist Arrested Here—Death of Young Man—Controversy Over Recorder's Court—Other News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Jan. 16.—The Star recently contained an account of an alleged bigamous marriage in this county, between Matthew Conner and Miss Emma H. Ward. The young girl did not know the man was already married, and her family, who are good people, were justly outraged.

The couple left for parts unknown, and it was feared that the scoundrel would succeed in getting away. Last Saturday Town Marshal Thompson, of Whiteville, received a telephone message from the foreman at Delgado mill, near Wilmington, stating that he had just read in the News-Reporter an account of the marriage, and that Conner was wanted. He stated that the couple had come to Delgado and were then working in the mill and the officers could get them if desired. Marshal Thompson telephoned to the gentleman to hold Conner until the Columbus authorities could be heard from.

On last Friday, by Rev. D. C. Geddie, at the parsonage in Whiteville, Mr. Willie C. Council and Miss Lena Council, a popular young couple of Council Station, were married. They at once returned to Council, which place they will make their future home.

Yesterday, at the home of Mr. J. A. J. Spivey, near Whiteville, Mr. Ed Spivey and Miss Julia Ward were married, E. A. Maultsby, J. P., officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Kelly Ward, who lives in the lower part of this county, near the Brunswick line.

Our people were deeply grieved to learn of the death of Mr. Jason Harrelson, a well known and popular young man of this town, and who passed away at the home of his father, Mr. J. B. Harrelson, below Vineland. The deceased has been for some time employed in Whiteville and at the time of his death was working for Mr. R. B. McRoy, of Vineland. He was a young man of fine character, respected by all who knew him.

Tonight a musical entertainment will be given at the auditorium by the pupils of Miss Mary Pitts, assisted by the best talent in town.

The Recorder's court muddle is still on and the outlook is that no court will be established, owing to disagreement among members of the bar as to who shall be judge and solicitor. So many divergent reports have been given out in regard to that meeting of the bar, it is impossible to arrive at the facts. Mr. I. B. Tucker, who is not interested in the matter, stated to the Star's correspondent that no positive action was taken by the members of the bar at their meeting. He says the bar appointed a committee to draft a bill looking to the establishment of a Recorder's court for Columbus county, and which must be submitted at another meeting of the members, when all would be present. Mr. Tucker says that no endorsements were made for either judge or solicitor. The names of Mr. J. R. Williamson was spoken of for judge and Lyon & Greer for solicitors, but no regular endrosement of the bar was given either party. Mr. Tucker says both parties were satisfactory to him, but it seems objections were raised. Mr. D. J. Lewis confirmed what Mr. Tucker said. There is so much division over these proposed appointments that it is now believed the court will not be established. The proper thing would have been to let the court be created and then leave the election of judge and solicitor to the people. Mr. Tucker says as the court only holds two days in each month, he thinks $600 a year ample salary for the judge, and then draft a bill so as not to increase expenses to the county when a case is appealed. So far as your correspondent is concerned, it is a matter of entire indifference whether a Recorder's court be created or not, or who will be elected judge and solicitor. He thinks a Recorder's court is a step forward and would be a saving to the county.

NEGRO BADLY SCALDED.

Fell in Tank of Boiling Water—Mr. Grantham Convalescent.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Jan. 16.—Will Simmons, a colored employe of the Empire Mfg. Co., of this city, was so badly scalded late Saturday afternoon that his chances for recovery are very slim. He was engaged at some work near a large tank of boiling water used by the company to steam lumber, when in some way he lost his balance and fell into the tank backwards, which was waist deep. His screams of agony attracted the attention of several of the other hands working nearby, who came to the rescue and assisted him to get out with the aid of a long pole. So badly was he scalded that when his clothing was removed his skin peeled off with same.

Mr. Raymond Grantham, who has been critically ill with pneumonia at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs John M. Grantham, is now considered on the sure road to convalescence. His brother "John Albert", who is an operative patient in St. Luke's hospital in Richmond, is also steadily improving.

Washington, Jan. 16.—A appeal to the "officials and members of organized labor," is being sent out by the American Federation of Labor, asking financial aid for the striking cigar makers at Tampa, Fla.

DOINGS AT THE UNIVERSITY

Spring Term Opened Auspiciously—Trustees in Need of Support.—Basketball Team Organized—Faculty Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 13.—The Spring term of the University of North Carolina is in full swing. Although the registration was light on the first two days, January 2nd and 3rd, those who arrived late brought the total registration up to within 40 of the number registered at the same date last year.

The chapel exercises for the past week have been conducted by Rev. Henry, of Santa Cruix, Nova Scotia, father of Mr. K. G. K. Henry, of the department of mathematics. Of special interest at the recent chapel exercises were the addresses of President Venable relative to the present financial straits of the University. He showed that the University owes at present $55,000. The interest that must be paid annually on the debt of the University would pay one full professor's salary and half of another's. Last year a deficit of $15,000 of the University appropriation, in the State's Treasury, had to be collected elsewhere by State Treasurer Lacy. The trustees of the University last year faced the lamentable fact that nine of the University's prominent professors were attracted elsewhere by more lucrative positions, this being a hard blow for a University the size of this State. Dr. Venable showed plainly that the University had greatly outgrown its appropriation and without it was aided materially by the State, it must necessarily cease to grow. He expressed confidence that the present Legislature would do all in its power to remedy the present financial straits in which the University now stands.

Basketball has eventually found its way into the athletics of the University. After three years of unsuccessful attempts to launch this form of athletics at the University, it has finally been worked in, due a great deal to the persistency and work of Trainer Cartmell. He has a squad of about twenty men at work every night and some fair material is being developed. Trainer Cartmell said of the game: "The boys are green and must stand for a few lickings, but we had to begin some time." The schedule for the season was definitely given out this morning, and considering the fact that this is the University's first season in this sport, the schedule is considered very good. It is:

January 27—Virginia Christian College, at Chapel Hill.

February 1—Durham Y. M. C. A. at Chapel Hill.

February 3—Wake Forest, at Chapel Hill.

February 9.—Guilford College, at Chapel Hill.

February 13.—Cnarlotte Y. M. C. A. at Chapel Hill.

February 18—Anniversary game with Wake Forest, at Wake Forest.

February 21—University of Tennessee at Chapel Hill.

February 25—University of Virginia at Chapel Hill.

February 28—Woodbury Forest at Orange, Va.

March 1.—University of Virginia at Charlottesville, Va.

March 2.—Virginia Christian College at Lynchburg, Va.

The men showing up best so far are Flyod and Carrington at center; Duls, Haynes and Smith at forward; and Long, Tillett and Pitch at guard. Some of these men have played the game before.

The unseasonable but very warm weather has found a few baseball and track men on the athletic field for the past few days. Manager McCulloch is still at work on his baseball schedule which has been completed with the exception of a few contracts. Manager Stockton has been unable to arrange any definite track meets but Carolina will probably meet her old rivals, Washington and Lee and V. P. I. on the cinder path this year, and there is some talk of a State meet. Prospects for the track team seem very good as all of the old men are back in college except Capt. Williams, and Coach Cartmell expects to round out a good team from his material.

At a convention of the Southern Educational Association held at Chattanooga, Tenn., on December 27-29, Dr. Louis R. Wilson, Librarian of the University, was elected chairman of the Library Department of the Association. Dr. Wilson was not in attendance at the convention.

T. P. Nash, Jr., of the graduate school, in an investigation of a recent review of "American Men of Science", revealed some very interesting facts relative to the South's standing in scientific lines. Out of a carefully compiled list of 1,000 of the most noted men of science in the United States, New York has more than five times as many representatives as all of the Southern States together. Chapel Hill, however, has the distinction of being second only to one city, having the largest number of notable scientists in proportion to the number of population. Virginia has ten men in the number and North Carolina has seven. Of these seven, six are members of the faculty of the University of North Carolina. These are: Dr. F. P. Venable, president of the Department of Chemistry; Dr. C. H. Herty, Department of Chemistry; Dr. J. C. Mills, Department of Chemistry; Dr. A. S. Wheeler, Department of Chemistry; Dr. N. V. Willson, Department of Zoology, and Dr. W. C. Coker, of the Department of Botany. The seventh North Carolinian is Prof. F. T. Stevens, of the faculty of the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Dr. J. G. DeRoulhac Hamilton represented the University in Raleigh when the State Historical Society presented the bust of Senator Ransom to the State.

A recent improvement at the library of the University, is the establishment of three seminary rooms. These rooms are primarily for the use of the graduate students in the Departments of French, English and German, and Greek and Latin. Each room is filled with books especially adapted for research work in its special department, and this new arrangement for the students is considered a valuable addition to the equipment of the graduate school.

Among recent additions to the collection in the library, a noteworthy document is one of the three existing copies of the constitution of the Ku Klux Klan. The one in the possession of the University is the second print that was made of the constitution of the now famous order, and was printed in Pulaski, Tenn., in 1868. It was recently presented to the University, but the donor desired his name to be withheld. This document is considered a valuable addition to the shelves of the library.

The regular mid year examinations will commence on the 16th of January, and will continue for ten days.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Wilmington Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the totures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the danger of diabetes of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Wilmington citizen says:

Mrs. M E. Bordeax, 510 S. Second street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as I used them with good results. I had dull pains through my back and some days they were so severe that I could hardly get about to do my housework. Added to this was a difficulty with the kidney secretions, which caused me a great deal of annoyance. The contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Robert R. Bellamy's Drug Store, stopped the backache and also disposed of the kidney weakness."

The people of Wilmington are touchous about vaccination. Most of the left arms in the city are out of commission.

According to a genealogist, Uncle Joe Cannon descended from a Norman barron. How much better it would have been had he ascended instead of having descended.

It is said that Mr. John D. Rockefeller is "opposed to the custom of passing the cntribution plate at church." It doesn't seem to worry some people, as they let it pass unnoticed.

Dr. Cook seems to be up against the "Artic Trust," as he calls it, declaring that he is being slandered by it. All cold receptions look like an Arttic Trust to the fellow who gets the cold shoulder.

Up to the last count, there are eight candidates in Virginia for the United States Senate. This indicates that there are at least that many Virginians who are satisfied they are satesmen.

Captain Hobson insists that the United States are not prepared for war. Neither is a politician but if his conservation grounds are invaded there is sure to be a war of words if nothing more.

The Washington Herald makes the declaration that "Missouri's Legislature is in session without a single lobyist in sight." However, they may be under cover, but still willing to be "seen" on business.

An American shipbuilding concern has secured the contract to construct the first battleship for China's new navy. When its comes to commercialism, China must observe that we are right there with the goods.

Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, has selected a man name Tumulty to be his private secretary. No doubt the private secretary will feel perfectly at home in the midst of the tumultuous career upon which the Governor has launched.

Says the Columbia State: "South Carolina is improving. Thirty years ago there were a dozen Breathitt counties in the State." Then we are led to believe that the day has passed in South Carolina when a fellow is liable to get shot if he wears a collar and combs his hair?

The South Carolina Legislature met last week and thereupon the Chesterfield (S. C.) Advertiser remarked: "The Legislature which convened this week will probably be watched more closely than ever heretofore." Perhaps it will bear watching, but anyhow, if it is not watched a great deal will be missed.

Oh, you Miss Alys! Now watch the old-fashioned name of Alice disappear. Miss Alice von Meyer, eldest daughter of Secretary of the Navy, left Washington last Summer and has returned from Europe where she adopted the phonetic style of spelling her name. Since her return to the National capital the newspapers have been instructed to hereafter allude to her as Miss Alys. Guess all the Alyses will now follow suit.

STATE BOARD OF TRADE.

It is said Representative Roberts, of Buncombe cunty, favors a law and will introduce a bill providing for the establishment of a State Board of Trade for the purpose of promoting the development of North Carolina and advertising our resources and the advantages in this State for industries and home-seekers. The Winston-Salem Journal is informed that "the bill will carry provisions for the co-operation of all the boards of trade and chambers of commerce in the State for the advancement of the entire territory, without interfering with the work that each individual chamber does in promoting the interests of its own particular community." The idea favorably strikes the Journal, which says this about it:

"We believe, along with Secretary J. S. Kuykendall of the local Board of Trade, that such an institution would mean great things for North Carolina, and we believe that the work of this State board could be carried on with comparatively small expenditure. At this time, when the railroads of the South are pushing their "Back Home Movement," it would seem particularly important that a State board should be organized, for we believe that if the railroads were properly approached, they would contribute to the maintenance of the organization. We hope this matter will be carefully considered by the Legislature, and that if it can be done without too great expenditure the experiment should be made."

Of course, the boards of trade, chambers of commerce and commercial organizations should co-operate, but if we are not mistaken there is already a State organization of the secretaries of such bodies, which holds a convention annually. Its scope might be broadened into a more representative annual congress of these organizations and at such a meeting we have no doubt much good can be done. If nothing else can be accomplished, the organizations can learn much from each other and co-operate in methods tending to make the individual organizations more efficient. One trouble is, however, that most of these organizations are not organized on a substantial basis and are only local concerns with little or no support even for the important local work they have in hand. The different cities in North Carolina will first have to learn how to back up their own organizations before they can be expected to go into State-wide boosting.

We are not opposing the proposition of Representative Roberts. It may be a good thing, if we knew more fully what his purposes and plans are, but as it will take money, instead of conventions and talk, to do effective work for the State, it strikes us that what the General Assembly could do would be to make an appropriation to be expended wisely under some of the State departments in a manner that will attract attention to the varied resources of the State from the sea to the mountains. In this way all the people, the corporations and the railroads would bear their proportion of the expenditure in behalf of the State at large. However, in this there comes up the question of more taxation, and we can't well propose undertakings that call for more taxes in the face of an existing deficit and the necssity now existing for increasing the tax levy, or else bring about a reasonable equalization of taxable values in North Carolina.

There are a whole lot of things we could do, if we had the money, but it is a pity just at this time, when everybody wants to be progressive, that we have an empty treasury instead of a surplus. The State has been making haste in other directions and has been over-reaching itself, and only the Legislature and the State officials are in a position to say at this time how much the State will have to spend next year and for what it can be best spent.

The various local organizations will hardly subscribe money to carry on a work of co-operation, for while some might subscribe others would not do so. Therefore, it would be hard to get at the equity in that connection and equally as hard to devise plans for promotion of one section without slighting others. If Mr. Roberts has a good thing, we hope he will succeed with his bill, but at any rate his proposition may serve the purpose of securing more co-operation among our boards of trade, chambers of commerce and commercial organizations.

First of all, however, we "had better get some" real live, well supported local organizations and then we can talk about getting together in a co-operative movement. Most of the organizations had better start to doing something at home before they become State boosters.

DEMOCRATIC LAW REVIVED.

Speaking of trust busting, it would seem there has been enough law under which it could be done if the laws had been enforced. Judge Parker, when Democratic nominee for President, declared that the trusts could be held to account under the Common Law, but not only Congress but the Legislatures, go on piling up anti-trust laws. Even the North Carolina General Assembly now is contemplating the passage of an anti-trust law "with teeth," and the probability is if it is passed we will hardly know the difference. It is easy enough to pass laws but getting them enforced is a horse of another color.

It seems that one of the unenforced anti-trust laws is of Democratic origin and was passed when Cleveland was President but not invoked till recently when the Government was endeavorisg to make out a case against the Tobacco Trust. Recently the country was surprised when the anti-trust clause of the Wilson-Gorman tariff act was revived by Assistant Attorney Geberal Reynolds when be demanded the dissolution of the Tobacco Trust under the Wilson tariff act of 1894, as well as under the Sherman anti-trust law. Here is the provision of the Wilson act:

"That every combination, conspiracy, trust, agreement, or contract is hereby declared to be contrary to public policy, illegal and void, when the same is made by or between two or more persons or corporations, either of whom is engaged in importing any article from any foreign country into the United States, and when such combination, conspiracy, trust, agreement or contract is intended to operate in restraint of lawful trade or free competition in lawful trade or commerce, or to increase the market price in any part of the United States of any article or articles imported or intended to be imported into the United States, or of any manufacture into which such imported articles enters or is intended to enter. Every person who is or shall hereafter be engaged in the importation of goods or any commodity from any foreign country, in violation of this section of this act, or who shall combine or conspire with another to violate the same, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, in any court of the United States, such person shall be fined in a sum not less than $100 and not exceeding $5,000, and shall be further punished by imprisonment in the discretion of the court for a term not less than three months nor exceeding twelve months."

The records show that the above anti-trust law "with teeth" was never repealed, but it was specifically provided in the Dingley act that the section quoted from the Wilson law should not be repealed. The Wilson law not only provided fines but imprisonment, but it was never enforced.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Often as not the water in the stock marks the difference between the earnings and the yearnings of the soulless corporation.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Andrew Carnegie gave $10,000,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of annihilating war, but the armor factories which make the money to pay the interest on the bonds show no disposition to go out of business.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Truly it will be a new era in New Jersey when the entire slate by the governor is prepared with an eye single to the advancement of the welfare of the people of the State, and with the governor's insistment that the party organization must help him in working for that welfare.—Newark News.

Without questioning the authority or the lack of authority for the story that Senator LaFollette will be a candidate for the presidency in 1912, under certain possible contingencies it may be said that the progressives will inevitably have a candidate in that year for whom they can consistently cast their votes. If he is not on one of the regular tickets he will be on an independent ticket. The progressive movement has grown too strong to be absorbed or sidetracked. It will continue to grow, and by 1912 it will govern the presidential nomination of one or both of the old parties or it will choose a leader of its own.—Kansas City Times.

Although the hull of the battleship Maine still remains in the mud of Havana harbor and some time must elapse before the wreck can be raised and placed in position for scrutiny by engineers and contractors, the discovery has already been made by those not officially connected with the work that the explosion that destroyed the Maine was internal. In the meantime unofficial opinions deduced from fragmentary items of news that come up from the harbor mud will have no weight with those who know the personnel of the original naval court and how painstaking its inquiry was. It is to be noted that Admiral Chadwick, a surviving member of the court, entertains no doubt of the correctness of the findings, although he has always advocated the raising of the Maine to obtain proof of the cause of the disaster that will satisfy the whole world. —New York Sun.

There is a difference of several cents per pound on quotations of meats in Charlotte, and in Washington City. Is this difference due to the fact that the larger cities share advantages in purchasing opportunities and lower freight rates, or is there some other reason why consumers in this city must pay far more than the prices required in larger cities? Nor is this excessiveness of prices charged for necessities confined to meats alone. We are sincerely enquiring for light. The problem is one which affects every household. It is one which well nigh makes the wage-earner despair of the task of making a small pay envelope cover a multitude of costs which have forged steadily upwards during recent years, and recent months particularly? Are consumers being victimized by dealers, or is the reason for inflated prices on meat, eggs, groceries, fuel, etc., due to general conditions over which local handlers of commodities have no control? —Charlotte News.

One of the ancient and honorable institutions of the Old Dominion is the Virginia Gazette, published at Williamsburg. It was established away back n 1736 by William Parks, doubtless a very enterprising journalist. The Gazette has improved with age. Like all good country weeklies it is refreshing when turned to from the bewildering mass of printed matter which often goes to make up a metropolitan daily. The Gazette once printed a great "scoop" to which it even yet justly points with pride. It flies the announcement of it week after week from its masthead. It says: "First to Publish the Declaration of Independence." The first publication of that piece of news is an achievement of which any journal might be proud. It was the biggest piece of news in the Christian era—at that time—bigger than Hastings, Runnymede or Waterloo; in fact, the biggest piece of news ever published. Should such a piece of news as that "break" today all the telegragph wires and cables in the world would be pressed into service to disseminate it, and should a paper get "beaten" on it, woe be unto that paper! Likewise, should the Williamsburg Gazette or any other paper secure a "beat" on it, it would be the journalistic achievement of the age, just as it was away back in 1776. Long again may The Gazette live in old Williamsburk.—Norfolk Landmark.

COAST LINE PROSPEROUS.

President Emerson and Vice President Kenly Were There.

(Savannah News, Jan. 14th.)

President T. M. Emerson and Vice President J. R. Kenly of the Atlantic Coast Line were in Savannah yesterday, having just returned from an inspection of the Coast Line's interests in Florida.

Both Mr. Tmerson and Mr. Kenly were exceedingly optimistic over business conditions and reported that the prospects for this year's business are unusually bright. While last year was a big one with the the Coast Line from both the passenger and freight traffic standpoint this year is expected to prove even better. There are a number or minor improvements to the Coast Line properties contemplated, but the officials knew nothing that would interest Savannah. They left at 1 o'clock in a private car over Coast Line No. 86 for Wilmington, the headquarters.

HAVE YOU BEEN VACCINATED?

Officers Will Begin This Afternoon the Enforcement of Compulsory Vaccination Order—New Plan Has Been Adopted.

The first effort to enforce the compulsory vaccination order will be made this afternoon, when police officers, acting under the direction of Dr. Joseph Akerman, city superintendent of health, with the consent of the Mayor, will serve summons on those who have not already complied with the ruling of the County Sanitary Committee to the effect that unless they are vaccinated within 48 hours from the time of service of the summons warrants will be issued for their arrest.

Those on whom summons have been served are expected to be vaccinated by their family physician or go to the city or county health office, where it will be done free of charge. This is thought to be a much better plan than the one first suggested—have physicians make a house to house canvass of the city to search out those who have not been vaccinated. The plan finally adopted is much cheaper and will be more effective. Should physicians undertake to canvass the city the services of the officers would have to be had anyway and besides no doubt much valuable time would be wasted in arguments with those who are opposed to vaccination. The police officers will make a systematic canvass of the entire city, visiting every home. They will take down the names of the inmates of the houses visited, those vaccinated and those not vaccinated. Those who have not been va cinated will be served with a summons, prepared in legal form, requiring them to comply with the law within 48 hours. The officer will return to the house at the end of the 48 hours and unless the person to whom summons has been issued is able to produce a certificate from a physician showing that he or she has been accinated or excused, a warrant will be issued. If a physician's certificate is produced, the officer will then issue a card from the health department showing that the person producing the certificate has met the requirements. The certificate given by the physician must be exchanged for the card issued by the health department. The certificate of a physician or exhibition of vaccination scars entitles one to receive the official card, which must be held by the recipient and exhibited when called for by the proper officials. The method adopted by the health department is a very simple one and can be carried out without the slightest confusion. It is also one that makes it possible to search out practically every person who has not been successfully vaccinated. And the order compelling vaccination, it is stated, will be enforced to the letter, idle talk on the streets to the contrary notwithstanding.

A few new cases of smallpox were discovered yesterday and a number of patients were discharged as well. The number of new cases discovered daily is not as large now as it was some days ago, which indicates that the disease is on the wane in this city.

The contest at Hemenway graded school for the best written composition on "Vaccination; Its Benefits to the Human Race," closed last Friday. The contest was only of four days' duration, therefore the pupils did not have much time on their compositions. However, some were written in a way that would have done credit to much older persons. The following is one of the papers which received the 100 mark:

"Few of the many ills which human flesh is heir to have spread such havoc among the family of men as smallpox. It is universal in its range from the untold savage tribe to the most powerful baron of civilization. To stay the strong hand of such a scourge was reserved for Edward Jenner, the discoverer of vaccination. Edward Jenner was born May 17, 1749. Before nine years old he showed a taste for natural history and when early at school he was fond of collecting fossils. After an apprenticeship to a surgeon and a short course of study he returned to his native village and commenced to practice medicine with great success. Owing to the popular belief that milkmaids were immune from smallpox he began to study a means of making others immune. Many and many were the weary hours he spent with ridicule and discouragement from his friends, until at last he was satisfied that not only would the udder of the cow prevent smallpox, but that matter taken from the human eruption could be used as well.

"On May 14, 1796, he successfully vaccinated a hog eight years old with matter from the hand of a milkmaid. The method met with much opposition, yet the following year 75 physicians and surgeons of London expressed their confidence in the eventual success of vaccination. After many vicissitudes of fortune Jenner's great discovery was officially recognized. Dr. Jenner passed the remainder of his life at Berkley and there died in February, 1823.

"Before the great discovery of vaccination by Jenner, in 1796, epidemics of smallpox appeared frequently and ravaged whole countries and even continents. Especially was it fatal among semi-civilized or barbarous people. Negroes now are very susceptible and the mortality is very great. The North American Indians and Mexicans died by the thousands after the disease had been introduced into this country.

"Since Jenner's great discovery these sweeping epidemics have become less and less and the disease would be stamped out of existence if vaccination were carried on in an ideal way. Fortunately vaccination is compulsory in our city and schools, and the evidence that the disease in its terrible form has been almost eradicated and that through vaccination physicians are able to handle the most violent cases with perfect freedom from danger, stands like a "stone wall" against the assault of the body of people who oppose it.

"We are having a few mild cases in our city now, but thanks to our Board of Health, led by our distinguished physician, Dr. Edward Jenner Wood, and his associates, compulsory vaccination is doing its work and soon smallpox will be only a sweet remembrance."

WILMINGTON BRANCH FORMED

The American Railroad Employes and Investors Association Organized Sunday—Officers Elected—Its Purposes.

At a well attended and representative gathering of railroad men in the Knights of Pythias Hall, over the Murchison National Bank, Sunday afternoon, a Wilmington branch of The American Railroad Employes and Investors' Association was organized with an initial membership of over 500. A report of the meeting, purposes of the association, etc., is set forth in the following article prepared for The Star:

"The meeting which was held in the K. of P. hall, was called to order by Capt. C. E. McCullough, who acted as chairman. Mr. P. D. Satchwell, of the A. C. L. general offices, acted as secretary. Capt. McCullough briefly outlined the purposes of the association as set out by its by-laws (given below), and proceeded with the inauguration of the local branch by the election of officers. The following were unanimously elected:

President—W. L. Harlow, Conductor.

Vice President—Archie Robinson, Conductor.

Secretary and Treasurer—A. J. Moore, Jr., local freight agent.

Executive committee to be presided over by the President:

C. E. McCullough, conductor; J. C. Edwards and Chas. Kasehagan, locomotive engineers; T. E. Lupo, of the roadway department; J. B. Fountain, train dispatcher; P. D. Satchwell, of the A. C. L. general offices, and H. H. Poole and J. A. Everett, of the Trainmen.

"The purposes of the Association, as laid down in its by-laws, are as follows:

"'by all lawful methods, to cultivate and maintain between its members such a spirit of mutual interest and such concern on the part of all of them for the welfare and prosperity of American railroads as will best promote their successful and profitable operation, for the benefit alike of their employes, investors and the public;

"'To encourage by every proper method, cordial and friendly feeling on the part of the public toward American railroads and their business;

"'To publicly provide means and methods for obtaining consideration and hearing from all legislative bodies and commissions empowered to enact laws, rules and regulations affecting the conduct and operation of railroads;

"'To do whatever lawful things may be necessary in order to secure a fair return alike to capital and to labor invested in American railroads, with due regards at all times to efficient service, fair treatment and safety to the public;

"'This association shall at no time be used for partisan political purposes, nor shall it take any part in controversies, if any, which may arise between railroad employes and railroad officials. Its membership shall consist of railroad employes, railroad investers, or their representatives."

"In view of adverse railroad legislation in the past and the threatened continuation of it in the future, it is not surprising that this constituency of railroad employes, feeling that they are without representation, should pursue such a course, when we stop to consider that now they number in the United States approximately two millions. They have profited by experience in the wisdom that when the railroad is prosperous they feel secure in the tenure of their positions at fair pay. But on the other hand, when the railroad is handicapped by hostile legislation, they realize that the draft of retrenchment in the service and scale of pay will, of necessty, first be made on them.

"The head office of the Association is in Chicago. C. D. Kellogg being secretary, and P. H. Morrissey, president, Mr. Morrissey still being a member of the Trainmen, having for years been president of that organization."

DREDGE CAPE FEAR REPAIRED.

Expected to Arrive at Southport Today to Resume Work.

Mr. R. C. Merritt, assistant United States Engineer, returned yesterday from a trip to Jacksonville, Fla., and Savannah, Ga. He was at the former place looking after some repairs to the suction dredge Comstock, while his business in Savannah was to look after the repairs to the dredge Cape Fear. Repairs to the Cape Fear have been completed and the dredge left Savannah Sunday and should arrive at Southport today to resume work on the bar. The repairs to the Comstock are now in progress.

Capt. Earl I. Brown, United States Engineer in charge of this district, is expected to return today from Jacksonville, Fla., where yesterday he attended a meeting of the Inter Coastal Survey Board, the other members being Colonel Kingman, chairman; Capt. Adams, of Charleston; Capt. Spalding, of Jacksonville.

Assistant Engineer John Krey has returned from East Arcadia, where his party is now doing preliminary work incident to the construction of the locks and dams on the Cape Fear river above Wilmington. The party will be locally in charge of Mr. Julius Rudolph.

It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them. WORK ON SOUTHPORT ROAD

Grading Has Been Resumed at Point Below Bolivia—Will be Completed by June—Store at Town Creek Burned.

After suspended activities for about three months, work on the railroad from Navassa to Southport was resumed yesterday morning when a large force of hands began grading at a point just below Bolivia, to which place the road had already been constructed from Navassa. The work is being done by Contractor Jones and information from Brunswick county is to the effect that the company building the road hopes to have the line completed by June 1st.

The road has been constructed from Navassa to Bolivia, via Town Creek, a distance of about 15 miles, and the road has been used during the past few months in transporting lumber, etc. Two engines are used on the road. It is only about 14 miles from Bolivia to Southport and people in Brunswick county see no reason why the road cannot be completed by the time set by the officers of the company, June 1st. Mr. Z. W. Whitehead, of Wilmington, is president of the company which is building the road. It is said that there are no hills and no streams of consequence between Bolivia and Southport and this end of the line should be constructed in much less time than was required to build the end connecting with the Seaboard and Coast Line at Navassa.

Town Creek was visited by a fire early Sunday morning, which was evidently of incendiary origin. A store building belonging to Mr. D. R. Johnson and occupied by Mr. T. W. Henry, who was just putting in a large stock of groceries and merchandise, was burned to the ground about 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Henry was in Wilmington Saturday and purchased about $400 or $500 worth of merchandise for his store. The goods were taken to Town Creek Saturday on Mr. Henry's gasoline boat and were unloaded that night. Mr. Henry was careful to have no matches or a light about the store and the goods were taken from the boat and stored in the building by moonlight. He had a large force and the work was completed about midnight. An hour and a half later fire was discovered. It burned rapidly and but few things could be saved from the building. Mr. Henry did not have any insurance on his goods nor did Mr. Johnson have any on the store, which was valued at about $400. Nephews of Mr. Henry were about a quarter of a mile away in a boat and they stated that they saw a light and heard several men laughing, but did not discover that the store was on fire until it was too late to save much of property. A man who conducts a near-beer saloon across the road from the burned building said he was awakened from his slumbers by the roar of the flames. The fire burned so rapidly that many are inclined to believe that portions of the building were saturated with kerosene oil. An investigation will probably be made.

DECIDED TO BE VACCINATED

Negro Haled to Recorder's Court for Failure to Comply With Order of Sanitary Committee—Other Cases.

Because he refused to submit to vaccination in compliance with the recent order of the County Sanitary Committee on January 9th, Walter Gibson, colored, was arrested and haled to the Recorder's court yesterday morning. County Attorney Marsden Bellamy was on hand to prosecute the case against the negro. Gibson decided it the part of wisdom to be vaccinated rather than be sent to the county jail, where he would certainly be vaccinated. When his decision was made known to the court judgment was suspended. Gibson was vaccinated in the court room and was then discharged.

Bertha Nelson, a notoriously common white woman, and Frank Richardson, a negro, were before the court to answer the charge of living together. A case could not be made out against them and both were discharged. The woman has been to the county farm several times and should be given another term there on general principles, if no more serious offense could be established against her.

Bessie Joy, colored, was fined $10 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Gussie Greer, a white woman, a denizen of the underworld, was required to pay a fine of $5 and costs for assault on Hazel Anderson, also white. The latter was charged with disorderly conduct, but the case against her was dismissed. Wm. Bentley, colored, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, forfeited his bond of $10. For disorderly conduct C. Spicer was required to pay a fine of $5 and costs.

A case against Alex. Hill and Willie Brown, colored youths, charged with larceny of 50 cents from the person of Randolph Williams, a white youth, was called, but continued until today. The case against John Reaves and Robert Johnson, white men, charged with assault with deadly weapon on J. W. Wilson, also white, had to be continued, as Wilson is not yet able to leave the hospital. The defendant could not give bond and went to jail.

RECORD DRAUGHT VESSEL

Steamer Anglo Chilian Comes Up River Drawing 24 Feet, Six Inches. Capt. Wm. St. George at the Helm.

The big British steamer Anglo Chilian, which arrived at Southport Saturday from Chili with cargo of nitrate of soda, came up the river yesterday, drawing 24 feet, six inches of water, establishing a record for the port. Pilot William St. George was at the helm.

Capt. St. George some two months ago piloted a steamer up the river drawing 24 feet, four inches, which was at that time the record, and yesterday the same pilot added two more inches to the record. He stated yesterday that the Anglo Chilian was about as deep draught vessel as can be brought up the Cape Fear and this record will doubtless stand for some time.

Capt. St. George experienced some difficulty in getting the big steamer by the dredges, which are working near the cener of the channel in Snow's Marsh cut. With a vessel drawing this much water there was danger of either running the steamer into the dredge, or causing the dredge to collide with it. The harbor master in commenting upon the matter yesterday stated that it was very necessary that the dredges should be moved when these large draught vessels are brought up in order to avert accidents that are very likely to occur. It was also stated that the channel ranges at this point on the river, where a number of accidents have occurred to ships in the past, should be larger in order that they could be more distinctly seen at a greater distance.

The record of yesterday makes a splendid showing for the port of Wilmington and places it on an equal, as to depth of water, with a number of other competitive Atlantic coast ports.

The steamer has a cargo of 5,915 tons of nitrate of soda and is consigned to W. R. Grace & Co., at the Seaboard, both cargo and vessel.

Funeral of Mr. Julius Hahn.

The funeral of the late Mr. Julius Hahn was held from the family residence, No. 616 Chesnut street, Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the presence of a large assemblage of sorrowing relatives and sympathizing friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, Rabbi of the Temple of Israel, following which the body was borne to Oakdale cemetery where the interment took place. The pallbearers were. Honorary, Dr. Thos. S. Burbank, Messrs. Benj. Solomon, Wm. Goodman and A. Shrier; active, Messrs. Simon Solomon, Louis Stein, L. Bluenthental Martin Newman, Jacob Weil, M. Rosemann, Louis M. The pretty home was artistically decorated for the occasion. In the hall, the red and green color scheme was perfectly carried out, red carnations being the flower used. Receiving there were Mr. and Mrs. Bridger, assisted by Miss Virginia Hope Pugh, of Virginia, and Miss Bessie Bridger. In the parlor, where green and white prevailed, Misses Irene Miller, of Aibemarle, and Eddye Lee Coward, of Wadesboro, received the guests. Progressive hearts was indulged in, and this with a number of piano selections and readings made the evening one of pleasure. Later the guests retired to the dining room, where dainty refreshments were served. Banks of ferns and palms, with the soft, mellow glow of candles, made the dining room a bower of loveliness. The punch bowl was banked with Southern Smilax and presided over by Mesdames Parker, of Clinton, and Nicie Powell. At a late hour the guests departed. Those enjoying Mr. and Mrs. Bridger's hospitality were: Misses Hattie Custis Cromartie, Laura Dell, Amanda and Rosalie Clark, of Clarkton; Prof. LeRoy Dunn, Messrs. Clark and Lennon, of Clarkton; Prof. Coffin and Mr. Craven, of Abbottsburg; Mrs. Park, of Clinton; Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Norman, Mrs. Powell, Misses Miller, Pugh, Coward, Williamson, Freeman, Jettie and Bessie Bridger, Prof. G. U. Baucom, Messrs. H. C. Bridger, Jr., Edison Freeman, Colon Shaw, Miller and Leve Bridger.

NEW BUSINESS HOUSE.

Mr. Johon M. Meyland Opens Store in Eastern Part of City.

Mr. John Meyland, a well known business man, has just completed the erection of a handsome two-story store building at southwest corner of 11th and Dock streets, and has opened a grocery store on the ground floor the style of the firm being John M. Meyland & Son. The store was opened last Saturday and is doing good business from the start. The second floor will probably be used for living apartments. The building is quite an addition to the section of the city in which it is located.

DON'T BE THIN.

No Need of Being Scrawny, Weak and Emaciated.

In these days of physical culture and health foods, one would hardly expect to see any thin, weak, emaciated people, but in spite of all this, nearly every person you meet is thin and scrawny.

Good healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of the proper food with thorough assimilation of the fat-giving elements. Nine people out of ten in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases.

Samose has valuable flesh-forming and tissue building properties, and when it is assimilated with the food, it causes the flesh making elements to be retained and the weight is naturally increased.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., the popular druggists, have sold in the last few weeks a great many packages of Samose, every one with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it did not give satisfaction and has had but one person ask for the money back.

Theatrical

"Buster Brown," which comes to the Academy Saturday, matinee and night, is a show for the masses. The scenes of this famous American musical entertainment has been so constructed that its allurements will capture all, whatever their age or condition. From the school boy to the blase first-nighter, all who care for wholesome fun furnished by those universal favorites Buster, Tige and Mary Jane and all of Buster's merry relatives, each being cleverly impersonated by stage celebrities. The performance of Master Harold and Alfred Grady in the leading roles never lack variety or approaches the least dullness. They have an originality and manner quite their own, and the whole show moves with the proper dash and swing. In fact, "Buster Brown" is a name to conjure with and when he arrives, fun-making reigns supreme.

Seats for both performances will go on sale Friday morning at Plummer's.

Enlarged Bill at the Bijou.

The management of the Bijou, the ever popular motion picture theatre, made the important announcement last night that beginning today three reels will be shown each day, which increases the show just one-third what it was formerly. This is a big addition and the patrons of the retreat will doubtless appreciate the efforts of Messrs. Howard and Wells not only to give them the very best and latest in motion pictures, but also to increase the variety of the subjects shown. Besides, the management announces that Mr. Frank Banks, a well known soloist, has been engaged and will be heard at each performance. Today he will sing "Any Old Time or Any Old Place." Four pictures will be shown today and the programme is both interesting and varied embracing the following subjects: "The Midnight Marauder," "Help Wanted," both fine Biograph subjects; "The Old Water Jar," a comedy, and "Frankenstein," dramatic.

Grand Theatre.

Last night proved to be one of the biggest in the history of the Grand, playing to full houses at every show. The "Anvil Chorus" by the orchestra was the big feature and those who heard it were given a big treat. For today's bill the management announces three fine reels of pictures, a new illustrated song by Mr. Morgan and special musical programme by the orchestra. Anyone spending an hour at the Grand will be well repaid for their time.

The Crystal Palace.

The Palace presents an unusual attraction this week in "Victor and Louise," singing selections from the Grand Operas; also a thrilling act, "His Last Race," and a daring barrel jumper, "Stewart." The songs of Victor Canares and Miss Louise McGregor delighted the audience last night. Victor Canares is a linguist of wide knowledge, speaking a dozen languages fluently. He impersonates grand opera singers and during the week he and Miss McGregor will sing Fra Diavolo and Carmen in French, La Polona in Spanish and Martha and Palithsi in Italian. Canares impersonates the male singers, dropping naturally and easily from tenor to baritone to bass and then back to tenor, while Miss McGregor sings the soprano. Tonight the duo will sing the Misserere from "Il Trovatore." The pictures for today are "The Converted Deacon." and "Dan, the Arizona Scout." Ellsley, Ottke and Ellsley in "His Last Race," have a most interesting and thrilling sketch and "Stewart" adds comedy as well as daring barrel jumping feats.

"Buster Brown," Academy, Matinee and Night, Saturday, January 21st.

PASSED AWAY IN GREENSBORO.

Mrs. Johannah Anderson Hall Died Suddenly Yesterday.

Mrs. W. D. MacMillan, Sr., received a telegram yesterday conveying to her the sad intelligence of the death of her sister, Mrs. Johannah Anderson Hall, widow of the late Dr. T. C. Hall, of Anson county, who passed away suddenly at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Whetmore, in Greensboro, yesterday. Her death was due to heart disease. Mrs. Hall was 76 years old and since the death of her husband some years ago has been living with her daughters. She has many friends in Wilmington, who will learn with deepest regret of her passing. Mrs. Hall is survived by one sister, Mrs. MacMillan, of this city, two brothers, Messrs. David and B. R. Anderson, of Washington, D. C., and three daughters who live in the western part of the State. The bereaved have the tenderest sympathy of a great many Wilminyton friends. Mrs. Hall formerly lived in Fayetteville and the interment will probably take place there.

ALLEGED BIGAMIST NABBED

Matthew Lowe Connor, Wanted in Columbus County, Arrested at Delgado Early Sunday Morning—Trial Thursday.

Matthew Lowe Connor, a white man, apparently about 25 years old, wanted in Columbus county on the charge of bigamy, was arrested at Delgado late Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Temple and brought to this city and incarcerated in the county jail at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning in default of bond in the sum of $1,000 required by Justice G. W. Bornemann, who issued the papers upon which the arrest was made.

Connor, the story of whose misdeeds has been carried in the Star's Whiteville correspondence, is charged with having married Miss Emma Ward, about 14 years old, in Columbus county, a few weeks ago, while he had a wife, formerly Miss Edwards, and three children already living near Abbottsburg, a short distance from where he is said to have married his second wife. Soon after the recent marriage Connor and bride left Columbus county and came to Delgado, where they have since lived. A warrant was issued in Columbus for Connor charging him with bigamy and the authorities throughout this section of the State were asked to assist in the search for him. Mr. O. H. Adams, of Delgado, learned that Connor was living in that village and he came to the city Saturday night and secured a warrant for him. The papers were issued by Justice Bornemann and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Temple for service. Connor was aroused from his slumbers during the early hours of the morning and the papers served on him.

The Columbus county authorities mailed a warrant to Justice Bornemann yesterday and requested that the defendant be sent there for trial. Justice Bornemann declined to comply with the request, basing his refusal upon the following clause in Section 3361, of the Revisal relating to the crime of bigamy, "Any such offense may be dealt with, tried determined, and punished in the county where the ocender shall be apprehended, or be in custody as if the offence had been actually committed in that county." Therefore, the hearing will take place in this county, before Justice Bornemann, and is set for Thursday at 12 o'clock. Mrs. Anne Edwards Connor, alleged wife Number One, Mrs. Emma Ward Connor, alleged wife Number Two; O. H. Adams, W. M. Skipper, R. T. Ward, R. S. Williams, R. A. Marlow and Hettie Long are among the witnesses who have been summoned to appear at the hearing.

Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., it is understood, has been employed by the defendant, who, it is said, will be able to show extenuating circumstances.

Saved Two Lives.

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery" writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhage, la-grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough—all bronchial troubles—its supreme. Trial bottle free. 50c. and $1. Guaranteed by R. B. Bellamy.

EXPLOSION ON LAUNCH.

Occurred on Cadet Yesterday—Shattered Windows and Caused Fire.

A gasoline explosion on the launch Cadet, owned by Captains Hall and Dicksey, at her dock at the foot of Market street, yesterday shortly after noon, caused considerable excitement, but only slightly damaged the boat. The explosion was followed by a fire and the city fire department was called to the scene, extinguishing the flames in a short time.

The explosion occurred while the gasoline tank on the boat was being filled and it was stated yesterday that it was due to escaping vapor passing over an oil stove, which was lighted inside the boat at the time. The windows of the boat on both sides were shattered and some of those on the launch Lilly, lying alongside, also operated by the same owners. The explosion was a rather heavy one, could be heard for some distance, and shattered some of the windows in the building occupied by the Brunswick Grocery Company, which is directly in front of the Cadet's wharf. Mr. William Register, engineer on the Lilly, was slightly cut in the face by flying glass.

COTTON GOING DOWN AGAIN

Market Was Quiet, But Nervous and Unsettled Yesterday—Loss of From Five to 12 Points. South Bullish.

New York, Jan. 16.—The cotton market was quiet, but nervous and unsettled during today's trading and while the close was steady, last prices showed a net loss of from 5 to 12 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 9 points and inside of the first few minutes, active positions sold at a net loss of from 10 to 11 points under liquidation by buyers of last week and local bear pressure inspired by relatively easy cables and private advices from Liverpool, claiming that spot offerings were easier, although the South had sent very bullish reports here as to the attitude of interior holders on Saturday. Around 14.93 for May some support developed and the market rallied 5 or 6 points from the lowest, but there was no aggressive demand and later the market eased off again under a renewal of bear pressure and liquidation which appeared due to rumors that early returns to the National Ginners' Association indicated a ginning of 200,000 bales for the period just ended against 140,000 bales for the same period last year. Last prices were at nearly the lowest on the active months.

A summary of Texas weather conditions for the month of December issued by the Houston Weather Bureau showed precipitation at 158 stations averaging 2.26 inches, which was said to be 0.59 of an inch greater than the average for the last 18 years. While heavy rains were shown over Central and Western portions of the State, there was very little precipitation in northwest and western portions. This report attracted some attention, but seemed to have less influence in the market than apprehensions of an unsettled spot situation and the British rumors as to ginning returns. Southern spot markets officially reported were unchanged to 1-16c lower.

Receipts at the ports today 34,563 bales against 53,635 last week and 16,471 last year; for the week 245,000 bales, against 253,039 last week and 135,423 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 11,219 bales against 2,667 last year.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points lower; middling uplands 14.80; middling gulf 15.05; sales 2,300 bales. Futures opened steady and closed steady.

STOCK MARKET DISAPPOINTING

Traders Looked for Resumption of Last Week's Bullish Activity—Market Was Dull and Spiritless—Features.

New York, Jan. 16.—The course of today's stock market was disappointing to those who looked for a resumption of last week's bullish activity. There was evidence of considerable professional selling, presumably based upon the expectation of unfavorable news from Washington as well as upon the general outlook for trade as reflected in the large increase in the number of idle freight cars. These influences to a large extent were an offset to Saturday's excellent bank statement and the tone was heavy throughout. After a moderate selling movement early in the day had run its course, the market grew dull and spiritless with no pronounced tendency in either direction. Quotations at the end of the day were fractionally under Saturday's close. The coalers were the strongest feature of the list. The various Southern lines, especially Norfolk & Western and Louisville & Nashville, were in good demand, rumors of a prospective dividend increase being connected with the advance of the former. There was steady buying of the Rock Island issues which were strong and active and attention was directed to the restriction of operating expenses of the system. The Hill issues were quietly strong, but the Harrimans were inclined to heaviness and New York Central was again under pressure. Complete returns from the railroads of the country for November showed only a minor decrease in gross earnings, but a falling off of 11.57 per cent. in net, the largest of the year.

The government's report of record-breaking exports of steel and iron for 1910 was of little advantage to United States Steel, which was offered freely on each slight advance, coppers and kindred shares were heavy in spite of some recovery in the metal abroad.

Money continues to accumulate here and lower rates for all accommodations are looked for. The banks made a further gain of $1,990,000 today from the sub treasury. Commercial paper was in better demand. The brightest feature of the bond market is found in renewed assurances from foreign sources of large participation in the forthcoming issue of New York city bonds.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $2,809,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks for the day 406,300 shares.

COTTON ADVICES NOT GOOD.

Liverpool Market Disappointing—Decline of Some Ten Points.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Jan. 16.—Liverpool certainly was disappointing today, not only in the decrease in the volume of sales, but also in coming lower on the distant deliveries. On a dull market these advices have caused a decline here of some 10 points closing steady with New Orleans rather weaker than this market. In the late afternoon a rumor was current that the early advices from the National Ginners pointed to about 190,000 bales ginned for the period. Any such estimate seems very large to us and we can hardly credit this idea, although we have no basis for so doing except that the estimate seems very large to us as compared either with last season or the last period.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BARRY LEAVES THE FLEET.

Now in Command of Rear Admiral Thomas—Denies Reports.

San Francisco, January 16.—Rear Admiral Edward B. Barry today hauled down his pennant and relinquished command of the Pacific fleet to Rear Admiral Chauncey Thomas. The ceremony was marked by all the formalities prescribed by the regulations, but peculiar and grave circumstances to which report ascribes Admiral Barry's sudden request for retirement, robbed the occasion of the spontaneous and personal features which custom always made a part of such incidents.

After receiving the orders detaching him from the command of the fleet, Admiral Barry made a short speech to the assembled officers and men, expressing a warm feeling for the West Virginia and regret at leaving the cruiser.

Instead of immediately going ashore, as is customary, the admiral retired to his cabin, where he waited until nightfall, when he stepped into a motor launch awaiting him, and was taken to the naval landing.

While he was waiting in his cabin, Admiral Barry received an Associated Press representative, to whom he denied in general emphatically stories which have been published concerning the reasons for his unexpected retirement from the navy. Admiral Barry will leave shortly for New York, where he expects to make his home.

HYDE RETURNS TO WORK.

New York City Chamberlain Talks About His Absence.

New York, Jan. 16.—Charles H. Hyde, the city chamberlain returned to his desk today, and made fresh and amplified explanations of his long absence, but not to the mayor. Mayor did not see him although Mr. Hyde waited for his former law partner all day. Mayor Gaynor was at St. James, L. I., and did not come to town although he was expected up to a late hour.

"Don't you think your absence at this time has rather put the mayor in a hole?" Mr. Hyde was asked.

"I hope not," was the reply. "I wouldn't do anything to hurt him for the world. He has been my friend for 22 years. He may be displeased, but he will understand that I have been sick. The whole reason for my going away is that I was a sick man under espionage. But they were not really after me; it was to get the mayor that I was followed."

Hyde was shown a published statement that he had neglected his duties. "That's a lie," he answered hotly.

"There never was a city chamberlain who worked as hard as I did. I was at my desk constantly until I was taken ill."

WHO IS TO BLAME

For so Many Sickly Children?

We hear of so many children who are thin, delicate, ailing and tired all the time, we are led to ask what is the cause, and who is to blame?

Don't blame the children—they have no strength. They play hard, work hard at school, and rapid growth takes all their strength.

It is the mothers of all such children who are to blame, for if they only realized what our delicious cod liver and iron tonic will do for their little ones, they wouldn't sleep at night until they had started them on Vinol.

Only a few days ago a case came to our attention,—Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, of Durand, Mich., had a little daughter nine years of age. She was weak, pale, ailing and nothing seemed to do her any good. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once and gained rapidly in weight, color and strength.

We positively know Vinol will build up your little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try a bottle and if you are not satisfied we will return your money. We make this offer to show you our confidence and belief in Vinol. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

Argument was waived, and Judge Ward began his charge at 3:55. At 3:55 he had concluded, charging that the evidence was circumstantial, and stating the prisoner's contention for him. He denies, or would deny, that there is any evidence of any homicide at all. Nobody saw this tragedy," Judge Ward continued: "It rests purely upon evidence circumstantial."

The verdict came in eight minutes.

Eight minutes of deliberation was followed by a dramatically silent attention.

"Sheriff, station your deputies everywhere, and see that there is no demonstration of any kind," Judge Ward said; "we can't allow it." The stillness of a cathedral hush fell upon the court room, fairly bursting now, when Foreman S. C. Hobgood pronounced the verdict that doomed the brute to early death. Judge Ward took time to write the judgment and then read it.

When he said: "May God have mercy upon your soul," the negro appeared to be unconcerned as to whether the prayer was answered or not.

To and From Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., January 16.—The sheriff of Granville county, with Company B, Third Regiment, North Carolina National Guard, as special escort, left this morning on a special train for Oxford with Nathan Montague, the negro field who criminally outraged Miss Mattie Sanders, murdered her and her father and little niece and burned their bodies on the Sanders home December 19th, to hide his crime, the trial to be held there at once before Judge George W. Ward, the court being convened for this special purpose. Governor Kitchin also ordered out Company E, Third Regiment, Oxford, to meet the special train at Oxford, and the two to be on duty during the trial. Thereafter, Company B will guard him back to Raleigh on a special train for his recommitment to the State's prison, pending the electrocution. Company B carried the Raleigh gatling gun with them as a precaution. The negro's knife was found close by where Miss Sanders was murdered, much hair from her head was about the well where the negro washed the blood from his hands and some of the clothing of the young lady was found in the negro's room, when he was arrested. Captain W. F. Moody and Lieutenant Z. P. Smith were in command of the troops when they left Raleigh. General B. S. Royster, of Oxford, was in command of the two companies while on duty at Oxford. A special train bringing the prisoner back to Raleigh, reached here at 8:20 o'clock tonight. Montague is assigned to the death chamber.

HORNET AT NEW ORLEANS.

Filibuster Returns From Scene of Revolt in Honduras.

New Orleans, Jan. 16.—Captain Charles Johnson, of the Hornet filibustering expedition, and twelve members of the crew including chief engineer David P. Rowland, returned to New Orleans today on the steamer Jos. Vaccaro, which sailed from Puerto Cortez last Wednesday. All were extremely reticent concerning the movement of the Honduran revolutionists.

Captain Johnson and crew left the Hornet at Ruatan, made their way in a sloop to Belide, where they boarded the Joseph Vaccaro. Their places on the Hornet has been taken by Hondurans and when they departed from Ruatan the gunboat was preparing to take arms and ammunition to Tela.

Manuel Bonilla was still at Ruatan when they left whence he was directing the operations against the ports on the gulf coast of the mainland.

"About a dozen shots were fired at us with small arms when we appeared at Ruatan," said one of the Americans, "but the fire was not returned.

"We could have blown the town up with the modern guns on the Hornet, but Bonilla would not allow a shot to be fired."

When asked when the Hornet picked up guns and ammunition after her departure from New Orleans, every member of the expedition declined to answer.

LODGE AGAIN NOMINATED.

At Republican Caucus In Massachusetts—Whipple His Opponent.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 16.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge was nominated the Republican caucus today for a fourth term by 125 out of 153 Republican members of the Legislature, or sixteen less than a majority of the House and Senate on a joint ballot. As the absentees were nearly all from the House, it is anticipated that the majority of the Senate's votes will be cast for Mr. Lodge tomorrow, but that the House will be deadlocked. Whether this deadlock will continue to the joint convention on Wednesday noon, was a matter of interesting conjecture tonight. It was asserted in some quarters that should Mr. Lodge be returned, he would have to seek some Democratic support.

Sherman L. Whipple, of Brooklyn, a prominent member of the Suffolk bar, was selected by the Democrats at their caucus as Mr. Lodge's opponent.

The two caucuses were held simultaneously, and while the Republicans quickly nominated Mr. Lodge by acclamation, the Democrats took five ballots before finally deciding on Mr. Whipple. The latter's nomination was subsequently made unanimous.

The Senate will vote for Senator tomorrow afternoon as will the House.

RHEUMATISM

PURIFYING THE BLOOD THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superficial effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uratic impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

WOMEN FOUGHT TO DEATH.

Unusual Tragedy in Texas—Department Store Manager Victim.

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 16.—Shooting with the coolness and skill of a native born Texan, Mrs. T. M. Brooks, wife of a prominent attorney, this afternoon fired five bullets from a revolver in the body of Mrs. Mary Binford, department manager of a dry goods store, death resulting almost instantly.

Both Mrs. Brooks and her husband refuse to make any statement that would indicate the cause of the tragedy.

The shooting occurred on the second floor of the establishment, where Mrs. Binford was employed. Making her way through the lower floor Mrs. Brooks smilingly bowed and stopped to chat with acquaintances. As she stepped from the elevator Mrs. Brooks inquired for Mrs. Binford and as the latter approached Mrs. Brooks drew an old fashioned revolver from her muff. The women grappled, Mrs. Brooks finally freeing herself and forcing the other woman against the wall. In the scuffle the weapon was discharged, the bullet ploughing its way through Mrs. Binford's hand. With her victim at bay, Mrs. Brooks stepped back and fired four times.

The second struck Mrs. Binford in the left shoulder, the third one inch higher and the fourth entering the base of the neck, severing the spinal vertebrae. After the woman fell to the floor Mrs. Brooks fired again, the ball striking Mrs. Binford behind the ear, coming out through the top of the head. Shoppers witnessing the tragedy were hysterical.

Making her way through the crowd Mrs. Brooks went to the office of her husband two blocks distant. As she handed the revolver to Mr. Brooks she said: "I am sorry," and then fainted.

The waist worn by the dead woman caught fire from the flashes of the revolver and the body was badly burned before the flames were extinguished.

Before securing a divorce from her husband about two years ago Mrs. Binford was wealthy and popular.

Mrs. Brooks waived preliminary trial and readily furnished bond in the sum of $10,000.

MRS. EDITH MELBER'S PLEA.

Plead Not Guilty of Murder of Her Little Son.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Edith Melber pleaded not guilty today to the charge of murder in the first degree before Justice Cochrane, in the Supreme Court, after being indicted by the grand jury for killing her five-year-old son, Georgie, giving him carbolic acid to dring.

The coroner's decision on the inquest is that death was due to carbolic acid.

According to the specialist in mental diseases, who examined Mrs. Melber yesterday, she is perfectly rational. On this report, the decision of the coroner and the confession by the woman to the Rochester police the district attorney will base his case.

Inasmuch as she confessed the authorities would not allow her to see the body before it was buried today at Schenectady. She has expressed a wish to see Howard Kirk, a young Schenectady draughtsman, but the police will not allow him to visit her.

LOOKOUT FOR A REFUGE.

Beaufort and Morehead City Delegation Protests Against Report.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.—A delegation headed by W. S. Chadwick, and W. L. Arendell, of Morehead City, arrived today to protest against the local engineer's adverse report for a survey on Cape Lookout as a harbor of refuge. Accompanied by Senator Simmons and Representative Thomas, the committee went before the Rivers and Harbors Committee in behalf of the survey.

The River and Harbor bill last year carried an appropriaton for a survey of Cape Lookout for refuge and commercial harbor. The local engineer reports adversely, and an appeal was filed by Senator Simmons. "We feel very much encourage since our conference," said Senator Simmons.

"Messrs. Arnedell, Abernathy and Brinson spoke in behalf of the committee and we are very hopeful of results." The matter will now be reopened and reviewed by the Board of Engineers.

DISMISSED CAROLINA CASE.

Action of U. S. Supreme Court in Case of G. Wash Hunter.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The Supreme Court of the United States today dismissed for want of jurisdiction the appeal to the court of G. Wash Hunter from his conviction of manslaughter in South Carolina.

Hunter was sentenced to the penitentiary for eight years. He was accused of having killed Elbert F. Copeland, near their homes in Laurens county, South Carolina, in 1906, while the two were playing at cards. Hunter entered a plea of self defense. The case brought to the Supreme Court on the claim that several technical errors were committed during the trial.
